

of patient labour to read it. These tablets, so recently brought to light, give ground for supposing that there may be rich libraries buried in Syria and Palestine of clay tables inscribed in cuneiform characters.